

A BIRTHDAY SALUTE TO MICKEY!

Very few Hollywood entertainers can claim as much notoriety and success as our own celebrated Mickey Mouse. The darling of millions, Mickey has achieved national prominence with his own fan club, his name being used as the secret code for the World War II "D-Day" invasion, and his very own Magic Kingdom to be Mayor of! And now in a salute to this dynamic personality, Walt Disney World premieres "Mickey's Birthday Parade" on January 28 in preparation for a national celebration culminating on Mickey's 50th birthday, November 18 of this year.

Featuring close to 40 of Mickey's friends and co-stars, the parade will run each day at 12:30 pm and 5:30 pm, (Saturday Nights at the World at 2 pm and 9 pm), beginning at Town Square and winding down Main Street, U.S.A. to its final destination in Frontierland. Nine floats will be included, stopping at various places along the parade route for large production numbers.

Happy Birthday Mickey . . . your career has just begun!

HIGHLIGHTS OF MICKEY'S CAREER

Mickey Mouse is undoubtedly the only entertainer who can claim he was "created" on a cross-country train ride. Walt Disney had just lost the rights to "Oswald the Rabbit" but refused to admit defeat. The haunting memory of a mouse racing around his barnyard in Kansas City kept coming back to him. Why not create a mouse the World would love? The mouse was named Mortimer to the dismay of Lillian Disney, who convinced Walt the mouse needed a less pompous name . . . and that was the beginning of Mickey!

Steamboat Willie-1928

Mickey's first starring role reached the public on November 18, 1928 at the New York Colony Theater when "Steamboat Willie" premiered. It was the World's first sound cartoon and was warmly received by the audience. Mickey was young then, and as with most youthful people, slightly mischievous, but he had personality that would endure.

"The Band Concert" was Mickey's first venture into the world of color. Again, Mickey displayed his versatility as he directed his orchestra in a spirited rendition of the William Tell Overture, despite the many obstacles in his way.

Mickey And The Beanstalk
from Fun And Fancy Free-1947

By 1938, Mickey was a full-fledged star playing the role of the town hero in a gallant struggle to overcome a terrible giant in "The Brave Little Tailor". Mickey was older and wiser, and thrilled that he was always playing to packed audiences.

Mickey was ready for the big time and his first full length motion picture. In 1940 the big chance came in the role of The Sorcerer's Apprentice in the movie Fantasia. Mickey was working with such notable performers as Leopold Stokowski who conducted the musical score for this extravaganza. Despite his outstanding performance, the audience was not quite ready for Mickey to be as sophisticated as his role required. Fantasia was technically the best film produced with Mickey, but not his most successful.

It was back to short subjects for Mickey and he had numerous successes including "Mickey and the Beanstalk" from "Fun and Fancy Free" before he decided to try his hand in television.

Television was a relatively new medium, but Mickey felt it would give him the opportunity to reach millions of children that had never seen him. This was one of Mickey's wisest decisions. With the debut of his very own television show, "The Mickey Mouse Club" in 1955, Mickey was assured his place in history. Fan clubs soon were created all over the country; letters came in by the thousands.

Mickey even began live appearances by 1954 with the opening of Disneyland. Since the 1971 opening of Walt Disney World, Mickey has two kingdoms to perform at . . . and hasn't missed a performance yet!

Mickey may be 50 this year, but he's the world's greatest trouper and will be performing to audience for years to come!

"It Takes People"

We found Cathy Wrenfro lost behind a mountain of costumes, busily sorting and taking inventory for the largest working wardrobe in the world! The Fantasyland Wardrobe Department has been Cathy's home since June 1971. Prior to joining the Walt Disney World cast, this Jones High School graduate toured the country in a variety of jobs that took her from Washington, D. C. to Washington State! Since returning to the Sunshine State, Cathy spends most of her free time caring for son Antoine and singing for the Orlando Chapter of the James Cleveland Group as well as the Mt. Zion Jubileers. Presently working towards her license in Cosmetology, Cathy hopes to one day join our Wig Room staff.

Keeping our maintenance equipment running smoothly has kept Carl Winters awfully busy over the past few years. Starting in the Maintenance shop at MAPO, another of our Walt Disney Productions subsidiaries, Carl caught a terminal case of "Pixie Dust" and took a chance moving his family to Florida in the hopes of working at Walt Disney World. In 1970 he began at Buena Vista Construction assisting in the fiberglass department on such unusual projects as building a treehouse! From there it was an easy jump to the Staff Shop where he can now be found. Carl says the nicest thing about Walt Disney World is the people . . . "Without everyone's help no job could be completed! Teamwork is the key." And Carl has even managed to convince his family of that . . . his wife, Irma works in Payroll, and sons David and Mark can be found in the Theme Park!

After seeing the mounds of snow her native state of New York received recently, Sue Lewis decided she was never going back! Sue and her husband Jim, a Walt Disney World custodial host, moved to Florida at the urging of her parents . . . and now they love it. Sue joined the Disney cast in January 1977 as a Food and Beverage Hostess at Borden's Ice Cream Parlor . . . and just received her one year pin! Though she says she loves her job, she admits she wouldn't mind staying home to raise a family when the time is right. For the present time Sue is content spending her leisure time working macrame and other craft projects to decorate their home.

NEWS

YOU'LL SEE THE LIGHT IN THE DARK CONTINENT

That's right, you'll see the light when you have breakfast in Florida and lunch in Africa, as Cast Activities prepares to embark on a Cast Safari to the Dark Continent!

The Dark Continent, at Busch Gardens in Tampa, where you will journey back a hundred years and a thousand miles to uncover the deepest secrets of darkest Africa.

There you can prowl the stalls of open-air markets for uncommon wares from exotic ports. Or catch a Moroccan belly dancer in her act. At the Dark Continent, you'll find entertainment around every corner. See jugglers and fire-eaters, magicians and unicyclists, even a real live snake charmer and her real live friends. Plus the two-ton antics of Busch Gardens own performing pachyderms . . . Sallie, Rosie and Tina.

Then come eye-to-eye with a full-grown rhino! At the Dark Continent, you'll see animals like you've never seen animals before. Discover rhinos, zebras, lions, giraffes . . . all roaming free in their own 200-acre preserve. And your vantage point? a 90-foot high skyride that carries you overhead, or a glass-enclosed monorail safari down on the ground level. Over on Claw Island, you can watch the comings and goings of six of the world's rarest cats: Bengal tigers.

IS THAT ALL THERE IS TO AFRICA?

Not hardly. After you've explored the Dark Continent's wildlife, go explore their wild times!

First stop, the perilous Python. You'll go head over heels as this 1200-foot roller coaster turns you upside down and nearly inside out at speeds up to 55 mph.

Next tackle the Monstrous Mamba. You'll twist and shout as this black beast spins you in directions you never knew existed. And you won't want to miss the plunge over Stanley Falls aboard the Dark Continent's famous flume as it hurls you headlong into a pool of boiling rapids 40-feet below.

All of this and more, as Cast Activities embarks on our Cast Safari to Busch Gardens on Saturday, February 25. A chartered safari bus will rendezvous with our Dark Continent explorers at 8 am in the Lake Buena Vista Preview Center parking lot, departing shortly thereafter for a full-day of viewing animals, riding thrill attractions and visiting the adjacent Anheuser-Busch brewery. All of this for just $15 per person, which includes round-trip transportation and admission to all areas.

The trip is limited, so drop by Cast Activities right away with your full payment. The deadline to sign on our Cast Safari is Friday, February 17. Call Cast Activities at extension 4254 for more details . . . and don't forget your camera!

BASKETBALL SCORES

Our men's basketball leagues ended regular play for the season, and as you read this, the Monday and Tuesday Leagues are competing in a championship "A" tournament, while the best four teams from Wednesday Leagues are involved in a "AA" tournament.

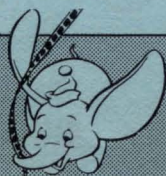

Final scores from last week had the Fubars taking a close 42-38 contest from the Super Subs, while the World Showcase team played good ball to hand the Custodial Rangers their second straight defeat by at 53-42 final. The Zoo Crew also came out on top of the Empress Lilly in a late contest.

In Tuesday action, the TTC team overwhelmed WED East by a whopping 104-39 final tally.

These finals mean that in the Monday and Tuesday "A" Leagues, tournament play will center on the Custodial Rangers, World Showcase, Zoo Crew and TTC.

Nextdoor in Wednesday night "AA" basketball, the final tournament action will be between the undefeated Contemporary Housekeeping team, Central Foods, Fantasyland Operations and the Polynesian Stars.

In Thursday night ladies' court action, the Theme Park Scavengers remained undefeated with a 26-15 win over the Magic Kingdom, while in a very exciting game, the LBV Village gals came from 11 points behind to win a 26-23 victory over a scrappy Central Foods team.

V.P.s BATTLE IT OUT

The finals of the Men's 35 and Over Singles Tennis Tournament began on December 9th, with Walt Disney World vice presidents Ted Crowell of Facilities and Howard Roland of Purchasing battling it out on the courts.

Tournament winner Howard Roland (l) congratulates Ted Crowell (r) on a game well played.

The first set was won by Howard at 6-2, with Ted taking the second 6-4. In the third set, the score was 4-2 in favor of Howard and Ted was serving with 30-love . . . when the rains came!

Due to bad weather all through December, conflicting schedules and the holiday period, Ted and Howard were unable to meet on the court until late last week.

Ted resumed his serve and won it, making the score 3-4. Howard then lost his serve, evening it up to 4-4. Ted won his next serve at 5-4, then Howard jumped back at 5-5. Ted lost his next serve to make it 5-6, then Howard lost his serve, again evening up this see-saw game 6-6. In sudden death play-off, Howard took the championship 5-2.

This made Howard Roland the winner of our Men's 35 & Over Singles Tennis Tournament with overall set scores of 6-2, 4-6, 6-7. Congratulations to both for a fine tournament.
